INDIANA IS CENTER OF INTENSE FIGHT

GUBERNATORIAL BATTLE HURTS COOLIDGE.

OUTLOOK IS INDEFINITE

Klan Controversy Has Aided John W. Davis—At Present Time, Coolidge Seems To Have Lead.

Special Leased Wire.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 20.—President Coolidge has the lead in Indiana, but the complications over the state ticket are giving the Democrats hope that on election day the resentment of the voters on local issues will be so strong that many of them will take no chances of a scratched ballot and will vote the straight Democratic ticket.

Even the Republicans admit that is a danger and just now the friction between the national Republican leaders working for Coolidge and the state Republican managers campaigning for Ed Jackson, the klan-endorsed candidate for governor, is so manifest that it will take considerable ironing out before Indiana's political behavior can be finally assessed.

The Democrats have made a strong anti-klan fight. They have gone further than ever before to get the negro vote and there are some signs that they will get it in large quantities. They have corralled others who are the victims of attack by the klan. One cannot underestimate the bitterness of feeling which the klan controversy has provoked.

Ed Jackson was Secretary of State when the klan charter was issued. He is said to argue he was not in the capitol on the day when the charter was given but he has made no public statement about it. The general impression which he has not refuted is that he is identified with the klan.

Local Fight Hurts Coolidge.

The friends of President Coolidge like Joseph Kealing, Republican national committeeman, have for some time been disturbed about the possible damage that might be done the national ticket through the local fight. Their tactics have been to keep hands off. The Republican state chairman, Clyde Walb, for instance, in a public statement criticizes "certain Republicans" for failing to give the state ticket their support.

"The one regrettable feature up to this time, is the fact that certain Republicans who in the past have enjoyed favor at the hands of the party and who probably will expect to do so again, are not taking an active part in the campaign.

"Some of them are doing nothing for the national or state tickets. Others are strong for Coolidge but are perfectly quiescent when it comes to the state and local tickets, thinking in some way that their failure to do anything for the state and local tickets will help the national ticket. How they reach this conclusion is more than I know. So while I feel certain of success on election day on all our tickets, I regret that this success unless conditions change will be attained without the aid of certain men who might have given assistance. An extensive speaking campaign will be started immediately and every city, town and hamlet will be covered."

State Fight Bitter.

It is generally supposed he meant the Harry New faction. There have been speakers in the state for the national ticket but they usually avoid anything more than a passing reference to the state ticket. The state managers now have reached a point in which they seriously believe the chances of Coolidge will be affected unless they get the wholehearted co-operation of the national Republican organization. Some of the latter, however, think it is safer to keep hands off so as to get both klan and anti-klan support. For President Coolidge himself has thus far been kept aloff from the klan controversy. Virtually the same situation exists here as in Colorado where the sentiment for Coolidge is not in any way related to the local controversy over the klan. The effect of the scratching of ballots especially on voting machines is already being discussed for the voter with a grievance will

Seyster Car Is Taken From Dorm Last Night

The Ford car of A. J. Seyster was evidently taken for a joy ride last night by some unknown persons. Howard Seyster had parked the car near Residence Hall a little before 7:30 o'clock last night. Shortly after when he went to get the car it was gone. About 9:30 o'clock it was found near the curb in front of Perrin Hall on Second street. The car had been run into the curb and one of the front wheels bent.

55 LEGIONNAIRES GORGE ON MULLIGAN

LEGION CAMP IS A SUCCESS IN EVERY WAY.

A PERFECT LOCATION

Much Credit Due To Paul Kuchs and All Admit Ben Chandler a Good Cook.

The mulligan was excellent.

This was the concensus of opinion of all Legionnaires who attended the camp Saturday night and Sunday morning.

But that wasn't all. Everybody admitted they had a good time, even Murphy will concede that.

First activities began early Saturday afternoon when Ben Chandler, the chef, and his crew arrived on the scene and then waited for the commissary wagon to arrive. Somehow or other the question as to where the camp site was located was rather vague in the minds of the preliminary party and the chairman of the general committee, leading the truck with the food, went a few miles out of the way. Furthermore it would have taken an Indian scout to find the place, as it was situated somewhere about seven miles southeast of Maitland, on the Nodaway River. However, after the signs were placed along the road to direct the Legionnaires they were able to find the John Roberts' camp.

There were about fifty-five Legion men who partook of the big meal, served between 12 and 1 o'clock Sunday morning. It was served regular army style, with the mess kits furnished by Battery C.

Parties of Legion men drifted in from 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon until midnight when the last car came in to camp. Traffic cops were needed to direct the drivers to parking spaces under and between the trees.

With victrola music, fishing, mostly eats and various other activities, and some sleep in the two tents and automobiles, until 7 o'clock Sunday morning, breakfast was served as the sun was coming up. With the last detail to leave camp, the Legion camp broke up about noon yesterday.

As a result of the Legion camp all the ex-service men there will confide that Ben Chandler is a good cook, Paul Kuchs able to direct the activities and an untiring worker, that Marc Sims can wade the river, and that Murphy Culver should go on a vaudeville circuit. Also that Opal is not an appropriate name.

ALL GOOD CITIZENS MUST GO TO POLLS

SAYS DR. C. C. JAMES IN SERMON YESTERDAY.

SHOULD FINE SLACKERS

Money Should Go Into Good Roads Fund, He Says—"Christianity Has Its Place In Politics."

"We are partners in the government that we establish and are responsible for its actions," said Dr. C. C. James in his sermon yesterday morning on "Using Your Citizenship." "We must sustain and keep it clean or lower our own standard of life."

Every citizen who does not vote, should be fined, Dr. James continued, and the money should go into the good roads fund. The neglect of our right to vote, he said, gives birth to the blithes of citizenship, which are indolence, self interests and placing party above citizenship. The central idea in citizenship is our relations to others, involving individual as well as social rights, he said.

"Christianity has a place in politics," the minister continued. "How can a Christian vote for a wet, corrupt or immoral person for office? As the United States of America is not the pocket-piece of any political party, our right of suffrage should be exercised for the best interests of the nation. We had better beware of the candidate who has a good press agent, because he may need the searchlight of investigation."

Dr. James said that citizenship to be worth while cannot be divorced from Christian principles. The mere matter of exploitation and intrigue in politics are sins against a genuine citizenship, he said. The slogan of citizenship is "Service to Humanity," he pointed out.

"Selfishness must be eliminated in true citizenship," Dr. James continued. "Whatever is good for the community is good for the individual, is a pretty safe principle to work by in our relation to the world. The old slogan of, 'To the victors belong the spoils', is an anarchistic principle that undermines and destroys good citizenship.

"All true American citizens will go to the polls and vote for the best interests of the American home, government and social life, as it confronts us today."

Citizens to Discuss Oil Station Location

Meeting To Be Held In Courthouse At 8 o'Clock Tomorrow Evening—Board Objects to Location.

The school board has called a mass meeting of the citizens of the school district for the purpose of finding out their desires in regard to a service station to be erected on the corner across the street from the Washington school building. The meeting will be held in the court house at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening.

The Marland Oil Company which recently purchased that corner has started to erect a filling station and the members of the school board feel that such a station at that point is a hazard to the safety of life and limb of the pupils of that school and expect to file an injunction to stop the erection of such station. According to a survey recently made, 1160 cars passed this corner between 8:30 a. m., and 6 p. m., in one day.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the proposition and to find out the sentiment of the citizens of the school district.

wish to make sure that he has voted correctly on that irrespective of anything else.

Were it not for the state controversy, President Coolidge would carry Indiana by 100,000. If he wins the state it will be by perhaps half that figure which may be called close since the days of woman suffrage and large registrations.

LaFollette Shows Strength.

The LaFollette strength in Indiana is not inconsiderable. Railroad labor and radicals and some farmers are going over to the third party ticket. Opinions vary as to whether this vote is coming in larger numbers from the Democratic than the Republican party but in the cities to be sure the Democrats will contribute more to LaFollette than in the country districts. The controversy over the state ticket has driven some of the independent voters to the LaFollette standard and altogether Indiana is much more difficult to analyze this year than it was four or eight years ago.

To summarize, the most that can be said of Indiana at this time is that if the election were held tomorrow, President Coolidge would carry it. The Democrats stimulated by the recent visit of John W. Davis are by no means inclined to concede Indiana. Mr. Davis put heart into the organization and made a good impression with his speeches. The Republicans thought enough of Indiana to send Secretary of State Hughes here and they are sparing no effort. They act as if they think they ought to win the state for Coolidge but they are by no means cock sure. The President has the advantage at present and barring unforseen developments in the controversy over the state ticket, whereby the national ticket becomes involved in the klan fight, Indiana may be counted ultimately for Coolidge.

Vernon Nash Tells What War In China Is "All About"

This story of the present war in China written especially for the Kansas City Journal-Post by Vernon Nash, former news editor of the Daily Democrat-Forum and former publicity secretary of the Kansas City Young Men's Christian Association, who recently went to China to establish the first school of journalism in that country, in an effort to let the people know, in a language they understand, what the strife in China is all about. Mr. Nash is a brother of Mrs. Virgil Rathbun of this city.

By VERNON NASH
Special Correspondent of the Kansas City Journal-Post.

Soochow, Kiang-Su, China.—To get an American parallel to China's latest civil war, imagine a political disturbance in the Middle West in the midst of which Kansas would act upon her oft repeated assertion that Kansas City is really an integral part of Kansas rather than Missouri. Imagine the government of Kansas assuming civil and military control over Jackson and Clay counties in Missouri and you have the picture of the situation which has brought about China's present "war." Shanghai lies in the southern edge of one of China's richest provinces, Kiang-su. But for many years the Shanghai area has been under the military control of a general "friendly" to Che-kiang, the province bordering on the south. This latter province is affiliated with the southern government at Canton although bordered on the north, west and south by provinces loyal to the Peking government. The sea on her east has been her independence.

The northern government at Peking would probably have been able to push the Che-kiang crowd into its sea at any time all these years, had they dared to bring their full force this far south. But with Chang Tst-Lin, one of China's two biggest war lords, sitting just north of the great wall in Manchuria and eager to seize control of the national government, the "ins" led by Wu Pei-Fu, the other great war lord, have preferred to keep the flower of their fighting force pretty close to Pekking.

Reason for Attack.

One guess is as good as another as to why the national government sanctioned an attack by Kiang-su upon Che-kiang at this time and are sending train loads of troops to aid. The explanation which "listens" best to an outsider with the perspective of only a week in the country is that floods in the north have made effective military operations there impossible for weeks to come. The Peking generals hope to finish off this little Shanghai job and get their troops back north before Chang-Tso-Lin could possibly dig in, even though he might be able to occupy Peking and Tien-tsin for a time.

So much for the military and political situation. It is more interesting to report what effects war and the threats of impending war have in the lives of the mass of the Chinese people. Since landing at Shanghai a week ago the writer has been in Soochow, "the Venice of the East," fifty miles from Shanghai on the railway to Pekin. The battlefront lies between this city and Shanghai. Soochow is strategic because the Grand canal from Hangchow in the south to Tien-tsin in the north is here intersected by Soochow creek, which serves as the lateral "feeder" to Shanghai. If canals are the arteries of China, as has so often been said, then Soochow is its heart.

Since fighting began several days ago mail and news have been non-existent for Soochow. Although within a 25-mile radius of the fighting line we know less about the fighting from day to day than any American served by the R. F. D. But, as before indicated, we are right in the midst of the real horrors of war. Soochow's labyrinch of canals is usually congested with boats. Today they are as deserted as the Missouri river at Kansas City. For tens of thousands of boatmen, as well as those larger numbers whose business is altogether dependent upon such transportation, such a situation spells disaster.

Starvation Close to Many.

To a large proportion of the population, living a hand-to-mouth existence, this disruption of commerce means that utter destitution is upon them with starvation lurking just around the corner. The disappearance of water craft was caused by the fact that the military forces coming down from Nanking, the provincial capital, commandeered all the boats and boatsmen they could get hold of. Those which escaped are lurking up the many inaccessible back-waters.

Coolies have been impressed into labor battalions by the thousands, and their families will wait in vain for any subsistence allowance. Soochow is the center of China's silk industry but most of her looms are silent, contracts being either cancelled or suspended through inability to affect deliveries. Why multiply examples of distress? Soochow is half again larger than Kansas City with the mass of people in the best of times living in abject poverty. How long before desperation drives them to general thievery, is a question which disturbs the foreigners and well-to-do Chinese even more than the possibility that the Kiang-so troops may suffer a crushing defeat and come pouring back through Soochow looting as they go.

Looting seems an inherent part of war in China. Those "in on the know" assert that it is the tacit reward for victory and the violently claimed consolation in defeat. What wonder that the silverware and other valuables in Soochow homes is disappearing into crevices and temporary graves, or that the majority of those clamoring for admission as refugees into foreign compounds are women!

Soochow Sees First Plane.

The gymnasium floor of the Soochow Y. M. C. A. as seen today is typical of what is going on all over the city wherever any foreigners live or work. A gridiron of white lines cross the floor from end to end and side to side, each 5x3 square bearing its number for assignment to a refugee.

As a result of this war Soochow saw its first airplane last Sunday. In seeking to land at the army camp outside the city it taxied into a rice field bog and reports are that it will stay there for the duration. A second plane two days later made a forced landing on the roof of a Chinese house and will never fly again. From which one would gather that the highly touted "air squadron" of the opposing forces may not be so formidable after all.

The war does not have its comic opera side for one who must laugh in order to keep the balance level. The first two days of this week before hos

HERE IS C. W. BRYAN'S FAVORITE PUDDING

Mrs. Charles W. Bryan, wife of the Governor of Nebraska, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, is noted in her State as a good housekeeper. In answer to a request, she has given the Governor's favorite dessert, a "cottage pudding" with "dip." "It is the dessert that he always has capacity for," she writes.

The recipe follows: Two cups flour, 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoonfuls of butter, 2 eggs, 1 cup milk and 3 even teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Bake in a medium hot oven and serve hot with liquid sauce. The receipe for the sauce is 1 cupful sugar, 1 tablespoonful flour, ½ nutmeg grated and a pinch of salt. Mix with a little cold water. Pour over it a pint of boiling water and let it boil a few minutes. Add a teaspoonful of butter just before taking up. Flavor with lemon or with a teaspoon of currant jelly.

The Messiah to Be Given Music Week

Handel's "The Messiah" will be presented by the College Chorus during music week this year.

This most successful and best-known oratorio was composed in 1741 in 24 days. "The Messiah" is not a sermon but an immortal song—a poem of human redemption. The text is taken literally from the Bible. It is divided into four sections: The first tells of the foreshadowings of the Messiah. The second tells of His advent. The third deals with the sufferings of Christ and His triumph. The fourth shows the effect of His life upon Christianity.

The climax of the oratoria is the "Hallelujan Chorus." When this chorus was sung in covent Garden, 1743, the effect was so sublime that the king followed by the audience, rose to his feet and since that time this act has been a custom with English-speaking peoples.

After this year it is hoped that it will be possible to present "The Messiah" at Christmas and Easter.

Meeting of Missouri Sportsmen at Liberty

An organization is being promulgated by Missouri sportsmen of the Izaak Walton League for the purpose of working in closer harmony with the state fish and game department. A meeting will be held at Liberty, Missouri this week. The following letter was received by Fred Smith, member of the local Izaak Walton League from Asa D. Lawrence, one of the officers of the League and a pusher for the preservation of the game in this state:

Kansas City, Oct. 18.

"I wish I could have seen you and talked with you on one of the greatest forward movements ever started for Missouri sportsmen.

"A meeting is called for Thursday night, October 23, at the Major Hotel, Liberty, for the purpose of making the Game and Fish Department a bipartisan one. This can be done and must be done.

"The sportsmen of Missouri pay the full expense of this department and should have some say about who will work for them; this is only common justice.

"Of course, we will do their work also within this new League.

"This new League will be the greatest boon to Missouri sportsmen that has ever been started.

"The Izaak Walton League is doing a great work and we do not want to detract from them, but being an international organization they cannot enter the one field that is so needed with us here. While, we can help with many of the things they are standing for and doing.

"I am proud of Missouri. I am for Missouri and Missouri sportsmen.

"Let us start a great forward movement that in time other states will be glad to follow.

"Don't fail to come. I am,

"Asa D. Lawrence."

History Club Meets This Morning — Short Talks are Made by Members.

The Monday and Tuesday activities of the third period at the Maryville High School have been arranged, according to L. L. St. Clair, principal, so that the Monday activities will come on Tuesday and vice versa, in order that the students working on the first annual homecoming program of the Maryville High School have a convenient time to meet.

According to this arrangement, the history club met this morning instead of on Tuesday. Some of the members made short speeches. Linda Sheridan showed an old knife and fork that was used by some of her relatives over a hundred years ago. Doris Walker, Homer Gile and Karl King made short talks.

It is the desire of the Board of Education that YOU as a citizen and taxpayer attend this meeting and instruct the Board as to your desires in the matter.

ARE YOUR shoats putting on their pound or more each day? Or are they wormy?

Here's how you can tell:

Get a pail of

Dr. Hess Stock Tonic

Start in to give double the regularly prescribed dose for a week or ten days, until the bowels move freely (physic).

Make sure that each hog gets its share. Mix it with the feed, or swill, or drinking water. That will bring the worms.

Then give the Tonic regularly as directed—two tablespoonfuls to every 500 pounds weight twice a day. This will tone up your herd and put them in a fine, thriving condition.

Buy it by the pail

Costs Little to Use

The price of one pound of pork pays a shoat's Tonic bill for thirty days.

25-lb. pail, $2.25; 100-lb. drum, $8.00
(Except in the far West, South and Canada)

MOVING PICTURES

Now that women possess the privilege of serving on juries, it is interesting to note how they carry out this portion of their civic duties. Therefore there is a current importance to the showing of "The Woman on the Jury" at the Empire Theatre tonight and Tuesday night. In this First National picture Sylvia Breamer gives a startling performance of a young bride who discovers that the girl on trial had slain the man who had nearly ruined her own life. The production, directed by Harry O. Hoyt, reaches dramatic heights of unusual power.

tilities had actually begun, there was a hard general rain. All the Chinese breathed a sigh of great relief. Well, the war is postponed for a day or so, they said. When asked the reason for such optimism they ejaculated in surprise at such dullness of understanding, "What general could persuade his soldiers to fight in such a downpour as this!" Umbrellas are a part of the average soldier's kit and oldtimers out here declare that some actually carry them into action.

Red Cross a Travesty.

With no authority to enforce respect for the emblem, the Red Cross has become a travesty in this city. Noting that the soldiers left hospital coolies alone, improvised Red Cross arm bands have blossomed on sleeves of all sorts and descriptions of men. The writer counted seventeen home made Red Cross flags hanging in front of all kinds of business houses in less than a hundred yards of an ordinary commercial street.

Most paper money is worthless. It seemed strange to have the government's post office refuse in payment for stamps a bank note issued, according to the statement on its face, "by the authority of the Chinese government." The acceptability of the bank notes in dependent upon public confidence in the stability of the bank issuing it. Desiring to proceed to Pekin, one had great difficulty in assembling good currency and silver to purchase tickets.

Soochow university, a Southern Methodist institution, upon whose campus the writer has been a guest, is being besieged by Chinese of all classes eager for the protection of foreigners and for the sense of security given Old Glory waving from the tower of Allen hall. Such refugees have been limited to families of faculty, alumni and students. The Red Cross of Soochow has also been promised space for 250 on the compound if an emergency arises requiring such admission.

Chinese and Protection.

Such eagerness to take advantage of the benefits of the extra-territorial rights enjoyed by foreigners is interesting in view of the recent widespread popular demand in China for the abolition of such rights. Cynical and unfriendly Chinese have been rather insistent in their assertions that the missionary carries on his work under the shadow of the bayonet and battleship while pioneering the way for the Standard Oil and B. A. T. (British-American Tobacco Company). But in a crisis, some of these same individuals have actually trembled with fear lest the missionaries should respond to the call of the consuls for foreigners to leave the interior and seek the security of international concessions in port cities.

To allay the unrest and uneasiness of the Chinese workers connected with the university here from coolies to doctors of philosopy, the foreign members of the staff, mostly Americans, have signed a pledge addressed to the native community assuring the Chinese that foreigners expect to stick by them without running away, whatever happens. It is a fine opportunity for the missionaries to demonstrate their independence of their country's military might, but some of them grow a little impatient when nervous Chinese querulously seek renewed assurances. One American lady, whose marriage to a missionary (contrary to certain popular impressions) had not dehumanized her, was heard to remark: "Well, those folks make me tired. Here we come out to do an altruistic work among them and then they want us to protect their noncombatants while they stage a civil war!"

But folks are folks in the face of danger, whether it be in Belgium, the Near East, the Frisco catastrophe or interior China. The dominant thought inevitably is one of personal safety and security.

Mrs. Dorothy E. Brown Dies Early Yesterday

Pioneer Resident Succumbs at Home of Son, Robert L. Brown—Funeral Services This Afternoon.

Mrs. Dorothy E. Brown, 80 years old died suddenly early Sunday morning at the home of her son, Robert L. Brown, 1102 North Walnut street, with whom she has made her home for the last four years. Death was caused by heart disease.

One brother, Ed Fannon, and four sisters, Mrs. Geo. Collins, Mrs. Lizzie Crandall and Nancy and Linda Fannon, also survive. There are three surviving grandchildren and one great grandchild. A brother, William Fannon, died only ten days ago.

John Murrin went to Omaha yesterday where he will meet his daughter, Mrs. G. R. Cornelius, and Mr. Cornelius of Hastings, Neb., who are visiting there for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cummings and Miss Lois Cummings were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Cummings and family of Skidmore.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Marxer of Des Moines, Ia., came Saturday to spend the week end with the former's sister, Mrs. Frank Cummins, and family. Mrs. Marxer remained for a longer visit.

DOUBLE YARDAGE LAFAYETTE GAINS

SPOOFHOUNDS PROVE SUPERIOR IN CONFERENCE GAME.

FINAL SCORE IS 12-9

Conquerors of Savannah Eleven Fall Before Onslaught of Coach Ebert's Gridders.

Consistent gains on wide end-runs, aided by a line that held when on the defensive and smashed open holes for its backfield when in possession of the ball, enabled Maryville High school gridders, conquerors of Fairfax and Westboro, to add another game to its string of consecutive victories, by defeating Lafayette, 12 to 9, Saturday afternoon at League park. It was Lafayette's first defeat this year.

Tried Over Dozen Passes.

A vicious aerial attack uncorked by Lafayette in the last quarter after Maryville had scored its second touchdown, threatened the Spoofhounds' goal line several times, but it came too late in the game. More than a dozen passes attempted in the last few minutes netted the Lafayette gridders nearly 80 yards, and had they put the ball in the air earlier in the half, the score probably would have been different.

Brown, Lafayette's hard-hitting right end, wriggled through the Maryville backs to snag several passes for good gains. Before the home team relinquished the ball to Maryville the last time, it looked like the Crowell to Brown combination would rob the visitors of their victory. A minute or two before the final whistle, Brown dived for one of Crowell's passes, rolled several times, but came up smiling with the ball hugged firmly in his arms. Two plays later, a pair of passes, Crowell to Brown, netted them 37 yards.

Lafayette Outweighed.

Battling against a team that outweighed them at least 10 pounds to a man combined with a superior brand of interference, Lafayette fought hard for the 88 yards they gained, while the husky Spoofhounds lugged the ball around the ends and smashed the line for 217 yards. C. Kissinger, Maryville's right half, and H. Miller, quarter, did most of the lugging for the visitors, while Crowell, Lafayette's quarter, and Krumrei, full, were responsible for most of Lafayette's ground gains.

Maryville's initial touchdown came after 9 minutes of play in the first quarter. A series of end runs and off tackle plunges by Miller, Cockayne and Kissinger, carried the pigskin to Lafayette's 5-yard line. Cockayne then smashed through center for 2 yards. Kissinger added another yard straight through and Miller carried the ball across on the next play, an off-tackle plunge. Lafayette's linesman blocked P. Kissinger's attempt to add the extra tally.

Maryville Scores Again.

The second for Maryville came shortly after the opening of the fourth period. The quarter opened with Maryville in possession of the ball on Lafayette's 13-yard line. On the first attempt, Miller failed to gain around left end, but Kissinger gained 3 yards on an off-tackle play. Cockayne tore around right for 7 yards, gaining the necessary yardage for a first down. With four downs in which to gain the 3 yards separating them from a second touchdown, Kissinger plunged straight through center for the final Maryville score. P. Kissinger failed in his try for the point.

After this touchdown Lafayette chose to receive. Krumrei, whose return of the kicks was a feature of the game, snagged the ball on Lafayette's 15-yard line, and raced 25 yards before he was downed. By a series of brilliant end runs by Crowell and a 5-yard penalty on Maryville, Lafayette carried the ball to Maryville's 5 yard line. At this point, Quarterback Crowell directed his attack against the center of the line, calling on Krumrei, who responded with a 3-yard gain, while Crowell, himself, added 3 more yards off tackle. The first period ended with Lafayette in possession of the ball on Maryville's two-yard line.

Opening the second quarter, Crowell added an additional yard through center and on the next play, Krumrei dived off left tackle for a touchdown. Crowell kicked goal, giving Lafayette a one-point lead at this time.

Lafayette Scores Safety.

The final score of the game came when Maryville, rather than play the ball from their own 5-yard line, touched the pigskin down back of their goal line, sacrificing two points to Lafayette on a safety.

Pickering Trounces Ravenwood Quint 38-4

Pickering High School cagers won their fourth straight victory Friday night, defeating the Ravenwood boys' team at Ravenwood by a score of 38 to 4. The game was refereed by Raymond Houston of the College.

The line-up of the Pickering quintet is Swinford, McKee, Hood and Harrington, forwards; Burks, captain, and McGinness, centers; and Gray, Lock, Zook and Garten, guards.

So far this season Pickering has defeated Parnell, Conception Junction and Ravenwood twice. The total scores of the games are Pickering, 142, opponents 25. This coming Friday Pickering will play Parnell at Pickering.

4 Straight Wins Record of Local Hi School Team

For the first time this season the Spoofhound line was crossed. Playing the fourth game of the schedule and the second conference game Lafayette Hi of St. Joseph scored on Maryville.

Maryville Hi has an enviable record so far this season, winning four games in a row and is now in line for the sub-district conference championship game, to be played the first week in November.

The scores of the four games:

Maryville 7, Fairfax 6.
Maryville 14, Stanberry 0.
Maryville 12, Westboro 0.
Maryville 12, Lafayette 9.

Total, Maryville 43, opponents 9.

Savannah Hi is next on the program for Coach Ebert's men. It will be played here October 31 at College field. The Spoofhounds will have two weeks to recuperate from the Lafayette game and get in shape for the Savannah aggregation.

This will be the Homecoming game.

Coach Ebert in commenting on the game, today said that he was fairly well pleased with the Spoofhounds in the Lafayette game, although we might have made a bigger score, we won, and that was all that was necessary. It was the hardest game the Spoofhounds have played this year. The Lafayette team is practically the same as last year, only a great deal improved and played good football, the Spoofhound coach said.

"Because it was a stiff game the boys came out of the struggle somewhat sore and bruised but we have two weeks to get ready for Savannah," Ebert commented.

The prospects of winning the sub-district will not be known until all the teams have finished their conference games this month.

Unless there is some other team besides the Spoofhounds that have won all of its games the Maryville Hi will not have to play off any tie-game. So far Westboro appears to be the only contender for the sub-district honors with Maryville and it may be necessary to play Westboro again, as the game played there when the Spoofhounds won 12 to 0 was not a conference scheduled game.

West Enders Romp Over Nickel Platers

While the Spoofhounds were fighting Lafayette Saturday afternoon and many more important games going on in the Missouri Valley, two groups of grade school boys in Maryville were fighting for the honor of their part of the city on the Nickel Plate field.

The West Enders defeated the Nickel Plate aggregation 42 to 6. Touchdowns were scored as follows: Johnny Thorp 6. Irvin J. Bartram 1. Jack Chick 1.

The line-ups:

Nickel Plates—Jack Chick, fullback; Bill Padgette, quarter; Eversole, left half; John H. Heath, right half; Lyle, Junior Hellmers, Arthur Brewer, Kenneth Hantz, Kirby Bovard and Richard Litsch.

GUBERNATORIAL BATTLE HURTS COOLIDGE.

OUTLOOK IS INDEFINITE

Klan Controversy Has Aided John W. Davis—At Present Time, Coolidge Seems To Have Lead.

By David Lawrence
Special Correspondent of the Democrat-Forum.
(Copyright 1924)
Special Leased Wire.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 20.—President Coolidge has the lead in Indiana, but the complications over the state ticket are giving the Democrats hope that on election day the resentment of the voters on local issues will be so strong that many of them will take no chances of a scratched ballot and will vote the straight Democratic ticket.

Even the Republicans admit that is a danger and just now the friction between the national Republican leaders working for Coolidge and the state Republican managers campaigning for Ed Jackson, the klan-endorsed candidate for governor, is so manifest that it will take considerable ironing out before Indiana's political behavior can be finally assessed.

The Democrats have made a strong anti-klan fight. They have gone further than ever before to get the negro vote and there are some signs that they will get it in large quantities. They have corralled others who are the victims of attack by the klan. One cannot underestimate the bitterness of feeling which the klan controversy has provoked.

Ed Jackson was Secretary of State when the klan charter was issued. He is said to argue he was not in the capitol on the day when the charter was given but he has made no public statement about it. The general impression which he has not refuted is that he is identified with the klan.

Local Fight Hurts Coolidge.

The friends of President Coolidge like Joseph Kealing, Republican national committeeman, have for some time been disturbed about the possible damage that might be done the national ticket through the local fight. Their tactics have been to keep hands off. The Republican state chairman, Clyde Walb, for instance, in a public statement criticizes "certain Republicans" for failing to give the state ticket their support.

"The one regrettable feature up to this time, is the fact that certain Republicans who in the past have enjoyed favor at the hands of the party and who probably will expect to do so again, are not taking an active part in the campaign.

"Some of them are doing nothing for the national or state tickets. Others are strong for Coolidge but are perfectly quiescent when it comes to the state and local tickets, thinking in some way that their failure to do anything for the state and local tickets will help the national ticket. How they reach this conclusion is more than I know. So while I feel certain of success on election day on all our tickets, I regret that this success unless conditions change will be attained without the aid of certain men who might have given assistance. An extensive speaking campaign will be started immediately and every city, town and hamlet will be covered."

State Fight Bitter.

It is generally supposed he meant the Harry New faction. There have been speakers in the state for the national ticket but they usually avoid anything more than a passing reference to the state ticket. The state managers now have reached a point in which they seriously believe the chances of Coolidge will be affected unless they get the wholehearted co-operation of the national Republican organization. Some of the latter, however, think it is safer to keep hands off so as to get both klan and anti-klan support. For President Coolidge himself has thus far been kept aloff from the klan controversy. Virtually the same situation exists here as in Colorado where the sentiment for Coolidge is not in any way related to the local controversy over the klan. The effect of the scratching of ballots especially on voting machines is already being discussed for the voter with a grievance will

Seyster Car Is Taken From Dorm Last Night

The Ford car of A. J. Seyster was evidently taken for a joy ride last night by some unknown persons. Howard Seyster had parked the car near Residence Hall a little before 7:30 o'clock last night. Shortly after when he went to get the car it was gone. About 9:30 o'clock it was found near the curb in front of Perrin Hall on Second street. The car had been run into the curb and one of the front wheels bent.

55 LEGIONNAIRES GORGE ON MULLIGAN

LEGION CAMP IS A SUCCESS IN EVERY WAY.

A PERFECT LOCATION

Much Credit Due To Paul Kuchs and All Admit Ben Chandler a Good Cook.

The mulligan was excellent.

This was the concensus of opinion of all Legionnaires who attended the camp Saturday night and Sunday morning.

But that wasn't all. Everybody admitted they had a good time, even Murphy will concede that.

First activities began early Saturday afternoon when Ben Chandler, the chef, and his crew arrived on the scene and then waited for the commissary wagon to arrive. Somehow or other the question as to where the camp site was located was rather vague in the minds of the preliminary party and the chairman of the general committee, leading the truck with the food, went a few miles out of the way. Furthermore it would have taken an Indian scout to find the place, as it was situated somewhere about seven miles southeast of Maitland, on the Nodaway River. However, after the signs were placed along the road to direct the Legionnaires they were able to find the John Roberts' camp.

There were about fifty-five Legion men who partook of the big meal, served between 12 and 1 o'clock Sunday morning. It was served regular army style, with the mess kits furnished by Battery C.

Parties of Legion men drifted in from 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon until midnight when the last car came in to camp. Traffic cops were needed to direct the drivers to parking spaces under and between the trees.

With victrola music, fishing, mostly eats and various other activities, and some sleep in the two tents and automobiles, until 7 o'clock Sunday morning, breakfast was served as the sun was coming up. With the last detail to leave camp, the Legion camp broke up about noon yesterday.

As a result of the Legion camp all the ex-service men there will confide that Ben Chandler is a good cook, Paul Kuchs able to direct the activities and an untiring worker, that Marc Sims can wade the river, and that Murphy Culver should go on a vaudeville circuit. Also that Opal is not an appropriate name.

ALL GOOD CITIZENS MUST GO TO POLLS

SAYS DR. C. C. JAMES IN SERMON YESTERDAY.

SHOULD FINE SLACKERS

Money Should Go Into Good Roads Fund, He Says—"Christianity Has Its Place In Politics."

"We are partners in the government that we establish and are responsible for its actions," said Dr. C. C. James in his sermon yesterday morning on "Using Your Citizenship." "We must sustain and keep it clean or lower our own standard of life."

Every citizen who does not vote, should be fined, Dr. James continued, and the money should go into the good roads fund. The neglect of our right to vote, he said, gives birth to the blithes of citizenship, which are indolence, self interests and placing party above citizenship. The central idea in citizenship is our relations to others, involving individual as well as social rights, he said.

"Christianity has a place in politics," the minister continued. "How can a Christian vote for a wet, corrupt or immoral person for office? As the United States of America is not the pocket-piece of any political party, our right of suffrage should be exercised for the best interests of the nation. We had better beware of the candidate who has a good press agent, because he may need the searchlight of investigation."

Dr. James said that citizenship to be worth while cannot be divorced from Christian principles. The mere matter of exploitation and intrigue in politics are sins against a genuine citizenship, he said. The slogan of citizenship is "Service to Humanity," he pointed out.

"Selfishness must be eliminated in true citizenship," Dr. James continued. "Whatever is good for the community is good for the individual, is a pretty safe principle to work by in our relation to the world. The old slogan of, 'To the victors belong the spoils', is an anarchistic principle that undermines and destroys good citizenship.

"All true American citizens will go to the polls and vote for the best interests of the American home, government and social life, as it confronts us today."

Citizens to Discuss Oil Station Location

Meeting To Be Held In Courthouse At 8 o'Clock Tomorrow Evening—Board Objects to Location.

The school board has called a mass meeting of the citizens of the school district for the purpose of finding out their desires in regard to a service station to be erected on the corner across the street from the Washington school building. The meeting will be held in the court house at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening.

The Marland Oil Company which recently purchased that corner has started to erect a filling station and the members of the school board feel that such a station at that point is a hazard to the safety of life and limb of the pupils of that school and expect to file an injunction to stop the erection of such station. According to a survey recently made, 1160 cars passed this corner between 8:30 a. m., and 6 p. m., in one day.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss the proposition and to find out the sentiment of the citizens of the school district.

Want White Collars and Silk Garments

Restoration of Pre-War Wages Asked By Brotherhood of Railroad Clerks and Others.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—High wages which would allow silk garments for their wives and white collars for themselves are asked in a brief submitted to the United States Railway Labor Board by the brotherhood of railroad and steamship clerks, freight handlers, express and station employes.

At the present rate of pay, according to the brief, the average wife can afford a silk dress "once in a hundred years," and a silk skirt "once in ten years."

The demands of the brotherhood had already been presented, asking about a 10 per cent increase, or a restoration of the pre-war time wage. The brief is a supplementary document. A wage to be adequate must provide for the decent support of a family of five, including the husband, wife and three dependent children, the brief says.

wish to make sure that he has voted correctly on that irrespective of anything else.

Were it not for the state controversy, President Coolidge would carry Indiana by 100,000. If he wins the state it will be by perhaps half that figure which may be called close since the days of woman suffrage and large registrations.

LaFollette Shows Strength.

The LaFollette strength in Indiana is not inconsiderable. Railroad labor and radicals and some farmers are going over to the third party ticket. Opinions vary as to whether this vote is coming in larger numbers from the Democratic than the Republican party but in the cities to be sure the Democrats will contribute more to LaFollette than in the country districts. The controversy over the state ticket has driven some of the independent voters to the LaFollette standard and altogether Indiana is much more difficult to analyze this year than it was four or eight years ago.

To summarize, the most that can be said of Indiana at this time is that if the election were held tomorrow, President Coolidge would carry it. The Democrats stimulated by the recent visit of John W. Davis are by no means inclined to concede Indiana. Mr. Davis put heart into the organization and made a good impression with his speeches. The Republicans thought enough of Indiana to send Secretary of State Hughes here and they are sparing no effort. They act as if they think they ought to win the state for Coolidge but they are by no means cock sure. The President has the advantage at present and barring unforseen developments in the controversy over the state ticket, whereby the national ticket becomes involved in the klan fight, Indiana may be counted ultimately for Coolidge.

Vernon Nash Tells What War In China Is "All About"

This story of the present war in China written especially for the Kansas City Journal-Post by Vernon Nash, former news editor of the Daily Democrat-Forum and former publicity secretary of the Kansas City Young Men's Christian Association, who recently went to China to establish the first school of journalism in that country, in an effort to let the people know, in a language they understand, what the strife in China is all about. Mr. Nash is a brother of Mrs. Virgil Rathbun of this city.

By VERNON NASH
Special Correspondent of the Kansas City Journal-Post.

Soochow, Kiang-Su, China.—To get an American parallel to China's latest civil war, imagine a political disturbance in the Middle West in the midst of which Kansas would act upon her oft repeated assertion that Kansas City is really an integral part of Kansas rather than Missouri. Imagine the government of Kansas assuming civil and military control over Jackson and Clay counties in Missouri and you have the picture of the situation which has brought about China's present "war." Shanghai lies in the southern edge of one of China's richest provinces, Kiang-su. But for many years the Shanghai area has been under the military control of a general "friendly" to Che-kiang, the province bordering on the south. This latter province is affiliated with the southern government at Canton although bordered on the north, west and south by provinces loyal to the Peking government. The sea on her east has been her independence.

The northern government at Peking would probably have been able to push the Che-kiang crowd into its sea at any time all these years, had they dared to bring their full force this far south. But with Chang Tst-Lin, one of China's two biggest war lords, sitting just north of the great wall in Manchuria and eager to seize control of the national government, the "ins" led by Wu Pei-Fu, the other great war lord, have preferred to keep the flower of their fighting force pretty close to Peking.

Reason for Attack.

One guess is as good as another as to why the national government sanctioned an attack by Kiang-su upon Che-kiang at this time and are sending train loads of troops to aid. The explanation which "listens" best to an outsider with the perspective of only a week in the country is that floods in the north have made effective military operations there impossible for weeks to come. The Peking generals hope to finish off this little Shanghai job and get their troops back north before Chang-Tso-Lin could possibly dig in, even though he might be able to occupy Peking and Tien-tsin for a time.

So much for the military and political situation. It is more interesting to report what effects war and the threats of impending war have in the lives of the mass of the Chinese people. Since landing at Shanghai a week ago the writer has been in Soochow, "the Venice of the East," fifty miles from Shanghai on the railway to Pekin. The battlefront lies between this city and Shanghai. Soochow is strategic because the Grand canal from Hang-chow in the south to Tien-tsin in the north is here intersected by Soochow creek, which serves as the lateral "feeder" to Shanghai. If canals are the arteries of China, as has so often been said, then Soochow is its heart.

Since fighting began several days ago mail and news have been non-existent for Soochow. Although within a 25-mile radius of the fighting line we know less about the fighting from day to day than any American served by the R. F. D. But, as before indicated, we are right in the midst of the real horrors of war. Soochow's labyrinth of canals is usually congested with boats. Today they are as deserted as the Missouri river at Kansas City. For tens of thousands of boatmen, as well as those larger numbers whose business is altogether dependent upon such transportation, such a situation spells disaster.

Starvation Close to Many.

To a large proportion of the population, living a hand-to-mouth existence, this disruption of commerce means that utter destitution is upon them with starvation lurking just around the corner. The disappearance of water craft was caused by the fact that the military forces coming down from Nanking, the provincial capital, commandeered all the boats and boatsmen they could get hold of. Those which escaped are lurking up the many inaccessible back-waters.

Coolies have been impressed into labor battalions by the thousands, and their families will wait in vain for any subsistence allowance. Soochow is the center of China's silk industry but most of her looms are silent, contracts being either cancelled or suspended through inability to affect deliveries. Why multiply examples of distress? Soochow is half again larger than Kansas City with the mass of people in the best of times living in abject poverty. How long before desperation drives them to general thievery, is a question which disturbs the foreigners and well-to-do Chinese even more than the possibility that the Kiang-so troops may suffer a crushing defeat and come pouring back through Soochow looting as they go.

Looting seems an inherent part of war in China. Those "in on the know" assert that it is the tacit reward for victory and the violently claimed consolation in defeat. What wonder that the silverware and other valuables in Soochow homes is disappearing into crevices and temporary graves, or that the majority of those clamoring for admission as refugees into foreign compounds are women!

Soochow Sees First Plane.

The gymnasium floor of the Soochow Y. M. C. A. as seen today is typical of what is going on all over the city wherever any foreigners live or work. A gridiron of white lines cross the floor from end to end and side to side, each 5x3 square bearing its number for assignment to a refugee.

As a result of this war Soochow saw its first airplane last Sunday. In seeking to land at the army camp outside the city it taxied into a rice field bog and reports are that it will stay there for the duration. A second plane two days later made a forced landing on the roof of a Chinese house and will never fly again. From which one would gather that the highly touted "air squadron" of the opposing forces may not be so formidable after all.

The war does not have its comic opera side for one who must laugh in order to keep the balance level. The first two days of this week before hos

HERE IS C. W. BRYAN'S FAVORITE PUDDING

Mrs. Charles W. Bryan, wife of the Governor of Nebraska, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee, is noted in her State as a good housekeeper. In answer to a request, she has given the Governor's favorite dessert, a "cottage pudding" with "dip." "It is the dessert that he always has capacity for," she writes.

The recipe follows: Two cups flour, 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoonfuls of butter, 2 eggs, 1 cup milk and 3 even teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Bake in a medium hot oven and serve hot with liquid sauce. The receipe for the sauce is 1 cupful sugar, 1 tablespoonful flour, ½ nutmeg grated and a pinch of salt. Mix with a little cold water. Pour over it a pint of boiling water and let it boil a few minutes. Add a teaspoonful of butter just before taking up. Flavor with lemon or with a teaspoon of currant jelly.

The Messiah to Be Given Music Week

Handel's "The Messiah" will be presented by the College Chorus during music week this year.

This most successful and best-known oratorio was composed in 1741 in 24 days. "The Messiah" is not a sermon but an immortal song—a poem of human redemption. The text is taken literally from the Bible. It is divided into four sections: The first tells of the foreshadowings of the Messiah. The second tells of His advent. The third deals with the sufferings of Christ and His triumph. The fourth shows the effect of His life upon Christianity.

The climax of the oratoria is the "Hallelujan Chorus." When this chorus was sung in covent Garden, 1743, the effect was so sublime that the king followed by the audience, rose to his feet and since that time this act has been a custom with English-speaking peoples.

After this year it is hoped that it will be possible to present "The Messiah" at Christmas and Easter.

Meeting of Missouri Sportsmen at Liberty

An organization is being promulgated by Missouri sportsmen of the Izaak Walton League for the purpose of working in closer harmony with the state fish and game department. A meeting will be held at Liberty, Missouri this week. The following letter was received by Fred Smith, member of the local Izaak Walton League from Asa D. Lawrence, one of the officers of the League and a pusher for the preservation of the game in this state:

Kansas City, Oct. 18.

"I wish I could have seen you and talked with you on one of the greatest forward movements ever started for Missouri sportsmen.

"A meeting is called for Thursday night, October 23, at the Major Hotel, Liberty, for the purpose of making the Game and Fish Department a bipartisan one. This can be done and must be done.

"The sportsmen of Missouri pay the full expense of this department and should have some say about who will work for them; this is only common justice.

"Of course, we will do their work also within this new League.

"This new League will be the greatest boon to Missouri sportsmen that has ever been started.

"The Izaak Walton League is doing a great work and we do not want to detract from them, but being an international organization they cannot enter the one field that is so needed with us here. While, we can help with many of the things they are standing for and doing.

"I am proud of Missouri. I am for Missouri and Missouri sportsmen.

"Let us start a great forward movement that in time other states will be glad to follow.

"Don't fail to come. I am,

"Asa D. Lawrence."

Mass Meeting

COURT HOUSE, TUESDAY, OCT. 21 at 8 P. M.

The Marland Oil Company has started the construction of a filling station on the corner opposite the Washington school building. The Board of Education of the Maryville public schools feel that the location of a filling station at this point is a hazard to the safety of life and limb of the pupils of said school and expect to file an injunction to stop the erection of said filling station.

It is the desire of the Board of Education that YOU as a citizen and taxpayer attend this meeting and instruct the Board as to your desires in the matter.

ARE YOUR shoats putting on their pound or more each day? Or are they wormy?

Here's how you can tell:

Get a pail of

Dr. Hess Stock Tonic

Start in to give double the regularly prescribed dose for a week or ten days, until the bowels move freely (physic).

Make sure that each hog gets its share. Mix it with the feed, or swill, or drinking water. That will bring the worms.

Then give the Tonic regularly as directed—two tablespoonfuls to every 500 pounds weight twice a day. This will tone up your herd and put them in a fine, thriving condition.

Buy it by the pail

Costs Little to Use

The price of one pound of pork pays a shoat's Tonic bill for thirty days.

MOVING PICTURES

Now that women possess the privilege of serving on juries, it is interesting to note how they carry out this portion of their civic duties. Therefore there is a current importance to the showing of "The Woman on the Jury" at the Empire Theatre tonight and Tuesday night. In this First National picture Sylvia Breamer gives a startling performance of a young bride who discovers that the girl on trial had slain the man who had nearly ruined her own life. The production, directed by Harry O. Hoyt, reaches dramatic heights of unusual power.

tilities had actually begun, there was a hard general rain. All the Chinese breathed a sigh of great relief. Well, the war is postponed for a day or so, they said. When asked the reason for such optimism they ejaculated in surprise at such dullness of understanding, "What general could persuade his soldiers to fight in such a downpour as this!" Umbrellas are a part of the average soldier's kit and oldtimers out here declare that 'some actually carry them into action.

Red Cross a Travesty.

With no authority to enforce respect for the emblem, the Red Cross has become a travesty in this city. Noting that the soldiers left hospital coolies alone, improvised Red Cross arm bands have blossomed on sleeves of all sorts and descriptions of men. The writer counted seventeen home made Red Cross flags hanging in front of all kinds of business houses in less than a hundred yards of an ordinary commercial street.

Most paper money is worthless. It seemed strange to have the government's post office refuse in payment for stamps a bank note issued, according to the statement on its face, "by the authority of the Chinese government." The acceptability of the bank notes in dependent upon public confidence in the stability of the bank issuing it. Desiring to proceed to Pekin, one had great difficulty in assembling good currency and silver to purchase tickets.

Soochow university, a Southern Methodist institution, upon whose campus the writer has been a guest, is being besieged by Chinese of all classes eager for the protection of foreigners and for the sense of security given Old Glory waving from the tower of Allen hall. Such refugees have been limited to families of faculty, alumni and students. The Red Cross of Soochow has also been promised space for 250 on the compound if an emergency arises requiring such admission.

Chinese and Protection.

Such eagerness to take advantage of the benefits of the extra-territorial rights enjoyed by foreigners is interesting in view of the recent widespread popular demand in China for the abolition of such rights. Cynical and unfriendly Chinese have been rather insistent in their assertions that the missionary carries on his work under the shadow of the bayonet and battleship while pioneering the way for the Standard Oil and B. A. T. (British-American Tobacco Company). But in a crisis, some of these same individuals have actually trembled with fear lest the missionaries should respond to the call of the consuls for foreigners to leave the interior and seek the security of international concessions in port cities.

To allay the unrest and uneasiness of the Chinese workers connected with the university here from coolies to doctors of philosopy, the foreign members of the staff, mostly Americans, have signed a pledge addressed to the native community assuring the Chinese that foreigners expect to stick by them without running away, whatever happens. It is a fine opportunity for the missionaries to demonstrate their independence of their country's military might, but some of them grow a little impatient when nervous Chinese querulously seek renewed assurances. One American lady, whose marriage to a missionary (contrary to certain popular impressions) had not dehumanized her, was heard to remark: "Well, those folks make me tired. Here we come out to do an altruistic work among them and then they want us to protect their noncombatants while they stage a civil war!"

But folks are folks in the face of danger, whether it be in Belgium, the Near East, the Frisco catastrophe or interior China. The dominant thought inevitably is one of personal safety and security.

DOUBLE YARDAGE LAFAYETTE GAINS

SPOOFHOUNDS PROVE SUPERIOR IN CONFERENCE GAME.

FINAL SCORE IS 12-9

Conquerors of Savannah Eleven Fall Before Onslaught of Coach Ebert's Gridders.

Consistent gains on wide end-runs, aided by a line that held when on the defensive and smashed open holes for its backfield when in possession of the ball, enabled Maryville High school gridders, conquerors of Fairfax and Westboro, to add another game to its string of consecutive victories, by defeating Lafayette, 12 to 9, Saturday afternoon at League park. It was Lafayette's first defeat this year.

Tried Over Dozen Passes.

A vicious aerial attack uncorked by Lafayette in the last quarter after Maryville had scored its second touchdown, threatened the Spoofhounds' goal line several times, but it came too late in the game. More than a dozen passes attempted in the last few minutes netted the Lafayette gridders nearly 80 yards, and had they put the ball in the air earlier in the half, the score probably would have been different.

Brown, Lafayette's hard-hitting right end, wriggled through the Maryville backs to snag several passes for good gains. Before the home team relinquished the ball to Maryville the last time, it looked like the Crowell to Brown combination would rob the visitors of their victory. A minute or two before the final whistle, Brown dived for one of Crowell's passes, rolled several times, but came up smiling with the ball hugged firmly in his arms. Two plays later, a pair of passes, Crowell to Brown, netted them 37 yards.

Lafayette Outweighed.

Battling against a team that outweighed them at least 10 pounds to a man combined with a superior brand of interference, Lafayette fought hard for the 88 yards they gained, while the husky Spoofhounds lugged the ball around the ends and smashed the line for 217 yards. C. Kissinger, Maryville's right half, and H. Miller, quarter, did most of the lugging for the visitors, while Crowell, Lafayette's quarter, and Krumrei, full, were responsible for most of Lafayette's ground gains.

Maryville's initial touchdown came after 9 minutes of play in the first quarter. A series of end runs and off tackle plunges by Miller, Cockayne and Kissinger, carried the pigskin to Lafayette's 5-yard line. Cockayne then smashed through center for 2 yards. Kissinger added another yard straight through and Miller carried the ball across on the next play, an off-tackle plunge. Lafayette's linesman blocked P. Kissinger's attempt to add the extra tally.

Maryville Scores Again.

The second for Maryville came shortly after the opening of the fourth period. The quarter opened with Maryville in possession of the ball on Lafayette's 13-yard line. On the first attempt, Miller failed to gain around left end, but Kissinger gained 3 yards on an off-tackle play. Cockayne tore around right for 7 yards, gaining the necessary yardage for a first down. With four downs in which to gain the 3 yards separating them from a second touchdown, Kissinger plunged straight through center for the final Maryville score. P. Kissinger failed in his try for the point.

After this touchdown Lafayette chose to receive. Krumrei, whose return of the kicks was a feature of the game, snagged the ball on Lafayette's 15-yard line, and raced 25 yards before he was downed. By a series of brilliant end runs by Crowell and a 5-yard penalty on Maryville, Lafayette carried the ball to Maryville's 5 yard line. At this point, Quarterback Crowell directed his attack against the center of the line, calling on Krumrei, who responded with a 3-yard gain, while Crowell, himself, added 3 more yards off tackle. The first period ended with Lafayette in possession of the ball on Maryville's two-yard line.

Opening the second quarter, Crowell added an additional yard through center and on the next play, Krumrei dived off left tackle for a touchdown. Crowell kicked goal, giving Lafayette a one-point lead at this time.

Lafayette Scores Safety.

The final score of the game came when Maryville, rather than play the ball from their own 5-yard line, touched the pigskin down back of their goal line, sacrificing two points to Lafayette on a safety.

Pickering Trounces Ravenwood Quint 38-4

Pickering High School cagers won their fourth straight victory Friday night, defeating the Ravenwood boys' team at Ravenwood by a score of 38 to 4. The game was refereed by Raymond Houston of the College.

The line-up of the Pickering quintet is Swinford, McKee, Hood and Harrington, forwards; Burks, captain, and McGinness, centers; and Gray, Lock, Zook and Garten, guards.

So far this season Pickering has defeated Parnell, Conception Junction and Ravenwood twice. The total scores of the games are Pickering, 142, opponents 25. This coming Friday Pickering will play Parnell at Pickering.

4 Straight Wins Record of Local Hi School Team

For the first time this season the Spoofhound line was crossed. Playing the fourth game of the schedule and the second conference game Lafayette Hi of St. Joseph scored on Maryville.

Maryville Hi has an enviable record so far this season, winning four games in a row and is now in line for the sub-district conference championship game, to be played the first week in November.

The scores of the four games:

Maryville 7, Fairfax 6.
Maryville 14, Stanberry 0.
Maryville 12, Westboro 0.
Maryville 12, Lafayette 9.

Total, Maryville 43, opponents 9.

Savannah Hi is next on the program for Coach Ebert's men. It will be played here October 31 at College field. The Spoofhounds will have two weeks to recuperate from the Lafayette game and get in shape for the Savannah aggregation.

This will be the Homecoming game.

Coach Ebert in commenting on the game, today said that he was fairly well pleased with the Spoofhounds in the Lafayette game, although we might have made a bigger score, we won, and that was all that was necessary. It was the hardest game the Spoofhounds have played this year. The Lafayette team is practically the same as last year, only a great deal improved and played good football, the Spoofhound coach said.

"Because it was a stiff game the boys came out of the struggle somewhat sore and bruised but we have two weeks to get ready for Savannah," Ebert commented.

The prospects of winning the sub-district will not be known until all the teams have finished their conference games this month.

Unless there is some other team besides the Spoofhounds that have won all of its games the Maryville Hi will not have to play off any tie-game. So far Westboro appears to be the only contender for the sub-district honors with Maryville and it may be necessary to play Westboro again, as the game played there when the Spoofhounds won 12 to 0 was not a conference scheduled game.

West Enders Romp Over Nickel Platers

While the Spoofhounds were fighting Lafayette Saturday afternoon and many more important games going on in the Missouri Valley, two groups of grade school boys in Maryville were fighting for the honor of their part of the city on the Nickel Plate field.

The West Enders defeated the Nickel Plate aggregation 42 to 6. Touchdowns were scored as follows: Johnny Thorp 6, Irvin J. Bartram 1, Jack Chick 1.

The line-ups:
